

Break Your Own Geode!

Break Your Own Geode!

A geode is a rock that contains a cavity lined with crystals. The most common are clear quartz crystals, but some have colored crystals. Use an old sock or sack and a hammer to break them open. There's no way to tell what's inside a geode until you break it apart-but that's the most exciting part!

